I mean, it's... ok? There's just not a lot of content here, once you've crafted a couple of potions and visited the only 3 rooms available, you've pretty much seen all this has to offer within 15 minutes.

Given it's been over 6 months with no progress or updates, this title is little more than a tech demo or abandonware and not likely to ever leave it's current early access state - and the days of being able to call these demos a full "VR Game" have been and gone.
